THE IMPORTANCE OF PREVENTION

Focus

PREVENTION OF OCCUPATIONAL DISEASES

D212 - Ed 1, January 2022

Incorrect hand care may lead to more or less risky consequences, including a variety of occupational diseases.

Using the NETTUNO programme, these problems can be prevented, ensuring that workers' hands are always protected and cared at all times.

These are the rates at which occupational diseases occur:

- 32% Other contact dermatitis
- 27% Contact dermatitis with chemicals
- 19% Contact dermatitis with detergents
- 4% Contact dermatitis due to oils and fats
- 5% Malignant skin tumours
- 4% Erythematous desquamative dermatoses
- 4% Other skin diseases

Other cases:

3% allergic urticaria

1% malignant melanoma of the skin

1% other dermatoses
